Alzheimer Award

Each year, the Associate Editors of the journal select the best article from the previous year's volume. The awardee is presented the Alzheimer Medal, a 3" bronze medal with the likeness of Alois Alzheimer. Recent awardees also received a cash prize sponsored by Elan Pharmaceuticals.

2009 Awardee

John Cogswell, PhD

Identification of miRNA changes in Alzheimer's disease brain and CSF yields putative biomarkers and insights into disease pathways (JAD 14:27-41, 2008)

2008 Awardee

Milan Fiala, MD

2005 Awardees

Hideo Hara, MD and Takeshi Tabira, MD, PhD

Development of a safe oral A $\beta$  vaccine using recombinant adeno-associated virus vector for Alzheimer's disease (JAD 6:483-488, 2004)

2004 Awardee

Lester I. Binder, PhD

Conformational changes and truncation of tau protein during tangle evolution in Alzheimer's disease (JAD 5:65-77, 2003)

2003 Awardee

Massimo Tabaton, MD

Neuronal apoptosis is accompanied by amyloid  $\beta$ -protein accumulation in the endoplasmic reticulum (JAD 4:31-37, 2002)

JAD Pre-Press Service

Shortly after acceptance, JAD articles are prepublished online in unedited form on the IOS Press full-text journal website, well in advance of their final print and online form. Articles are assigned a unique DOI number, which makes them searchable and citable, significantly reducing the time it takes for critical discoveries to reach the research community.

Publication Fee

JAD has introduced a publication fee when an article is accepted for publication. Authors will pay US$500 for a Regular Article and US$250 for a Short Communication. Page charges do not apply to feature articles.

Open Access Option

JAD offers authors the option to make their article freely available on the publisher's website. For a total charge of US$1200 (or US$950 for Short Communications) your article will be freely accessible immediately upon publication. When choosing the Open Access option, the charge includes the publication fee.

JAD Open Access Article

Alzheimer's disease research: Scientific productivity and impact of the top 100 investigators in the field by Aaron A. Sorensen (JAD 16:451-465, 2009)

Submission of Manuscripts

JAD is now accepting submissions through the online system, msTracker (<http://mstracker.com>). For more information please visit <http://www.j-alz.com/about/forauthors.html>.

JAD is a member of the Neuroscience Peer Review Consortium (<http://nprc.incf.org>), an alliance of neuroscience journals that have agreed to accept manuscript reviews from each other. Authors whose manuscripts have been peer reviewed by a Consortium journal may opt to have those reviews accessible by other journals belonging to the NPRC. JAD encourages authors to use this mechanism when submitting articles to JAD.
