CATALOGUE
2011

A B O U T I O S P R E S S

For over 20 years IOS Press has been serving the scientific community worldwide. IOS Press publishes approximately 130 new books each year and around 90 international journals, covering topics ranging from computer science and mathematics to medicine and the natural sciences.

All titles in this catalogue are available online as well as in print. Many titles are covered in the most important abstracting databases, such as Thomson Reuters / ISI, MEDLINE and Scopus.

Headquartered in Amsterdam with satellite offices in the USA, Germany, India and China, IOS Press has established several strategic co-publishing initiatives. Notable acquisitions included Delft University Press in 2005 and Millpress Science Publishers in 2008.

IOS Press journals are available through the highly-regarded MetaPress platform (<http://iospress.metapress.com>). We offer our complete e-journals collection at a deep discount.

Institutional subscription (online only): €435 / US$585

Individual subscription (online only): €95 / US$110

Online since volume 10 (1997)

Editor-in-Chief: E. Giunchiglia

Readership: AI researchers and developers, AI professionals

- * The European AI journal, affiliated with ECCAI (European Coordinating Committee for Artificial Intelligence)
- * Welcomes regular papers (target review cycle 2 months), short papers and PhD thesis summaries (target review cycle 1 month)
- * New area chairs, who are world class level scientists in the field

Applied Ontology

An Interdisciplinary Journal of Ontological Analysis and Conceptual Modeling

ISSN: 1570-5838
E-ISSN: 1875-5833

Subscription details 2011

Volume 6; 4 issues

Institutional subscription (print and online):

€473 / US$640 (including postage and handling)

Individual subscription (online only): €125 / US$150

Online since volume 1 (2005)

Editors-in-Chief: N. Guarino and M.A. Musen

Readership: Researchers and practitioners who are concerned with the problem of modeling application domains for the purpose of developing formal understanding, for building software systems, for interpreting natural language, for integrating data, for enhancing information retrieval, or for mediating among different organizations or social groups.

* Synergy between the Journal and the community formed by the new International Association for Ontology and its Applications (www.iaoa.org). Membership in the Association brings access to the Journal, and the Journal represents the definitive place where members of the Association publish their work.

Intelligent Data Analysis

An International Journal

Impact Factor: 0.929***

ISSN: 1088-467X
E-ISSN: 1571-4128

Subscription details 2011

Volume 15; 6 issues

Individual subscription (online only): €135 / US$160

Online since volume 4 (2000)

Editor-in-Chief: A. Famili

Readership: Researchers, practitioners, professors, graduate students, etc. using Artificial Intelligence techniques in data analysis across a variety of disciplines

- * Increased number of submissions each year
- * Editors receive a lot of support from the readers on highly valuable articles published
- * Many readers show their interest in helping in the article review and evaluation process
- * Many requests are received to publish special issues of the journal, which are based on selected papers from important events like ECML/PKDD. This is very important in comparison to other journals.

Intelligent Decision Technologies An International Journal

ISSN: 1872-4981
E-ISSN: 1875-8843

Subscription details 2011

Volume 5; 4 issues

Institutional subscription (print and online):

Institutional subscription (online only): €345 / US$470

Individual subscription (online only): €100 / US$120

Online since volume 1 (2007)

Editors-in-Chief: L.C. Jain and G. Phillips-Wren

Readership: Researchers in computer science, engineering and information systems who develop and apply intelligent decision technologies

- * Top researchers in the field of intelligent systems
- * Award-winning editors
- * Interdisciplinary research
- * Welcomes both fundamental and applied research
- * Special issues on medical decision support and dynamic environments
- * Affiliated with KES International, a community consisting of several thousand research scientists

Intelligenza Artificiale *new*

ISSN: 1724-8035

Subscription details 2011

Volume 4; 2 issues

Institutional subscription (print and online):

€240 / US$320 (including postage and handling)

Institutional subscription (online only): €220 / US$290

Individual subscription (online only): €100 / US$120

Editor-in-Chief: O. Stock

Readership: AI researchers and developers, AI professionals

International Journal of Artificial Intelligence in Education

ISSN: 1560-4292
E-ISSN: 1560-4306

Subscription details 2011

Volume 21; 4 issues

Institutional subscription (print and online):

€248 / US$345 (including postage and handling)

Individual subscription (online only): €250 / US$300

Online since volume 44 (2000)

Editor-in-Chief: D. Niwinski

Readership: Researchers and students in theoretical computer science and the fields of mathematics related to computing, as mathematical logic and discrete mathematics. The journal may be also of interest for the engineers applying computer science in practice and the scientists interested in application of computer methods in various domains like biology, medicine, or physics.

* Fundamenta Informaticae was the place where several research trends emerged for the first time or/and have been substantially developed. These include the rough set approach to machine learning and data mining originated by Z. Pawlak, trace approach to concurrency by A. Mazurkiewicz, graph processes by A. Corradini, U. Montanari, and F. Rossi, tolerance approximation spaces by A. Skowron and J. Stepaniuk, learning from example system by J.W. Grzymala-Busse, behavior structures and nets by A. Rabinovich and B.A. Trakhtenbrot, logical approach to dependently typed records by T. Coquand, R. Pollack, and M. Takeyama, and many others.

Readership: Business leaders

- * Emphasis on human knowledge in business and management from the beginning. None of its original premises – as stated on HSM original covers – had to be changed, adjusted or amended. They remain even more progressive and on target today than twenty years ago.
- * First issue started with Nobelists Joshua Lederberg as an author and Ilya Prigogine on the Editorial Board. First board members also included R.M. Cyert, M.M. Flood, D. Gerwin, K.R. Hammond, P.G.W. Keen, I.I. Mitroff, E. Rhenman, G.R. Salancik and others.
- * First HSM issue carried papers by R.K. Mueller and J.F. Magee of Arthur D. Little, LoebI on humanomics and Lederberg on EUGRAMS, among others.
- * Among better known or more famous authors publishing in HSM we find Karl W. Deutsch, Edgar Morin, L.A. Zadeh, Marvin Minsky, Myron Tribus, Magoroh Maruyama, Geert Hofstede, Sir Karl Popper, Peter Checkland, Allan H. Meltzer, Jaroslav Vanek and C. West Churchman.
- * In 1980 Leonard Uhr proposed knowledge sharing through Computer network-based responsive self-organizing groups. Gorelik wrote on Bogdanov's Tektology, H.E. Daly introduced Ecological economics in 1981. In 1984 R.W. Blanning introduced knowledge acquisition systems. In 1985 Marvin Minsky published his Remotely-Manned Systems, Holsapple and Whinston their Management Support through AI.
