Call for Papers

Translational Science of Rare Diseases

Is Now Accepting Papers

As a member of our research community, we would like to invite you to contribute your own work for publication in the journal. Translational Science of Rare Diseases offers contributing authors many benefits, including:

- Open Access fees waived for authors publishing in 2018
- Rigorous peer review and speedy manuscript processing
- Rapid online publication

Submit your manuscript electronically via the online submission system:

Detailed Instructions to Authors www.iospress.nl/journal/translational-science-of-rare-diseases/?tab=submission-of-manuscripts

First class Editorial Board www.iospress.nl/journal/translational-science-of-rare-diseases/?tab=editorial-board

Aims & Scope
The journal will feature independent, original research articles as well as in-depth review of specific rare diseases and therapeutics, and opinion pieces from regulators, patient advocates and leading industry and academic researchers focused on rare diseases.

The complete Aims & Scope:
www.iospress.nl/journal/translational-science-of-rare-diseases/?tab=aims-scores

Complete journal contents freely available online: content.iospress.com/journals/translational-science-of-rare-diseases

www.iospress.com/translational-science-of-rare-diseases